CONTENT NOT ACCEPTED FOR PUBLICATION

The Gazette reserves the right to refuse to publish any notice. The First Nations Gazette will not accept or publish notices containing:

- Advertising;
- Content of a personal nature;
- Offensive or defamatory content;
- Political content:
- False, inaccurate, misleading or fraudulent information.

The Gazette will not accept or publish a notice that may contravene any law or infringe any other person's rights.

PUBLICATION SCHEDULE

Notices must be submitted at least five (5) business days before the requested publication date, to allow sufficient time for processing and for making any changes (if required).

Notices are published on an on-going basis, as and when a notice is reviewed and approved for publication.

A posting will be published to Part 1 of First Nations Gazette on the date indicated in the notice submission (subject to review and publication approval).

An email notification will be sent to the submitter when the notice is published.

OFFICIAL LANGUAGES

The First Nations Gazette will accept notices in either of the official languages of Canada (i.e. English and French).

A notice may be submitted in one language only or in both (bilingual).

The submitter is responsible for any required translations.

SUBMISSION REVIEW

REVIEW PROCESS

After a submission has been received, it will be reviewed for the following:

- All required information has been provided (such as notice title and publication dates);
- To confirm that the content of the notice falls under accepted categories of notices;
- To ensure the notice does not contain unacceptable content;
- Grammar:
- Formatting or layout or style; and
- Other copy editing, as appropriate.

The submitter will be advised of any necessary changes to a notice submission. If changes are required, a submission may be rejected, with a request that the submission be modified and re-submitted.

Legal reviews will not be conducted on notices and submitters will not be given advice on any legal or substantive aspect of a notice. If legal advice is deemed appropriate or necessary, please ensure that the notice has been reviewed by legal counsel prior to submission to the Gazette for publication.

When a notice has been accepted for publication in Part I of the First Nations Gazette, the submitter will be notified by email.

REJECTION OR DECLINATION

When a notice is not accepted for publication, the submitter will receive an email notifying them that the notice has rejected or declined.

A notice may be rejected for reasons including, but not limited to: errors in spelling, punctuation, or grammar; the selection of the incorrect category; unclear notice content; or where clarification or additional information needed before the notice is published. A notice that has been rejected may be resubmitted once changes or corrections are made or the necessary additional information requested is provided.

A notice may be declined for reasons including, but not limited to: the notice contains content that is unacceptable

Public Notice Submission Guide

according to the Policy respecting the First Nations Gazette Public Notification Service, 2018 or the notice does not fall under one of the categories of notices accepted for publication. A notice that has been declined cannot be resubmitted.

CHANGES AND CANCELLATIONS

CANCELLING OR MAKING CORRECTIONS TO A NOTICE

A notice can be cancelled at any point before it is published.

A notice cannot be cancelled, edited, or removed from the Gazette after it has been published. A new notice may be submitted for the purpose of retracting or correcting a published notice. To submit a retraction or correct, submit an additional notice and indicate that it is being submitted to correct or retract a previous notice.
